Warrior's Swiss System Format

Warrior Table Soccer is revolutionizing foosball tournaments by Adopting the Swiss Style Format of play.

Swiss format allows for scheduled match times for every team/competitor.

Everyone is guaranteed to play several matches against varied competition. (No more out in 2)

Qualification rounds are run with the Swiss System with each match a race to 7.

Qualification rounds will usually be 5 rounds but may vary based on number of entrants.

Top 6 Qualifiers will play single elimination bracket for Open Payouts. 2 out of 3

Next 8 Qualifiers will play single elimination bracket for Pro Payouts. 2 out of 3

Women's, Senior, and Junior Events the top 4 qualify for single elimination bracket 2 out of 3

Big Money Draw Top 8 teams qualify for single elimination bracket race to 7

How rankings are determined

Swiss System Qualification Rankings use the Strength of Schedule to determine the standings.

After first round of matches all teams/competitors will be either 1-0 or 0-1.

If there are 32 teams/competitors they all play 1 match, 16 will be 1-0 and 16 will be 0-1 after first match.

Then a second round of matches will begin.

In this round all the 1-0 teams/competitors will play another 1-0 team. All the 0-1 teams will play another 0-1 team.

In the third round 2-0 teams will play another 2-0 team, 1-1 teams will play another 1-1 team, and 0-2 teams will play another 0-2 team. This will continue for 4 or 5 matches till top teams qualify for the single elimination bracket.

If you had opponents who had won all games your strength of schedule is higher than the player who played teams which lost all or some of their games. In other words, the player with the higher strength of schedule had better opponents and would be ranked higher.
